TUHAT SANAA

SUOMEKSI

Tuhat sanaa suomeksi -kirjan avulla kartutat sanavarastoa ja opit helposti kieltä. Kuvia ja sanoja yhdistelemällä kiinnostavien aihepiirien sanat jäävät muistiin mukavalla tavalla. Tutuiksi tulevat numerot, värit, ruumiinosat, ruoat, eläimet ja monenlaiset arkipäivän esineet ja toimet.

Kirjan lopusta löytyy sanasto ja tarkat ääntämisohjeet. Ääntämistä voit harjoitella myös internetissä suomenkielisen puhujan esimerkkiä seuraten. Tuhat sanaa -kirjasarjaa varten tehdyillä sivuilla voi kuunnella kirjan kaikkien sanojen ääntämisen ja toistaa perässä.

OTAVA KIRJAPAINO 2019

Opi puhumaan suomea!

Kirja sopii kaikille, jotka alkavat opetella suomen kieltä. Ennen kuin voi alkaa muodostaa lauseita, täytyy osata joukko sanoja. Pienet kuvat helpottavat uusien sanojen oppimista. Sanojen käyttöä voi myöhemmin harjoitella puhumalla aukeamien suurista kuvista. Kaikki sanat ovat kuunneltavissa kirjan internetsivuilla, mikä helpottaa ääntämisen harjoittelua.

Suomen kielessä kirjaimet äännetään melkein aina samalla tavalla riippumatta siitä, mitä muita kirjaimia niiden ympärillä on. Esimerkiksi sanassa matto ääntyy kaksi t-kirjainta ja sanassa laiva a- ja i-kirjaimet peräkkäin samanlaisina kuin yksin esiintyessään. K-, p- ja t-kirjaimet ääntyvät pehmeästi ilman aspiraatiota, toisin kuin vaikkapa englannissa. Suomen sanojen taivuttamiseen ei tarvita erillisiä pikkusanoja. Kun lähdet matkalle, menet *laivaan. Matkan aikana olet *laivassa. Kun matka loppuu, nouset *laivasta. Näitä asioita opit myöhemmin, kun alat käyttää kirjan suomenkielisiä sanoja.

Paras tapa opetella suomen sanojen lausumista on kuunnella niitä suomenkielisen puhujan lukemana ja toistaa itse perässä. Sanoja voi kuunnella Nemon internetsivuilla. Ohjeet löytyvät edelliseltä sivulta. Lopun sanastossa on jokaiselle sanalle IPA-symbolien (International Phonetic Alphabet, kansainvälinen foneettinen aakkosto) mukaiset ääntöohjeet. Tietokone ei siis ole välttämätön väline kirjan käyttäjälle,vaan sanoja voi oppia myös vain lukemalla.

Learn to speak Finnish!

This is a great book for anyone starting to learn Finnish. Before you can start making sentences you'll have to learn some words. The small pictures will make it easy to learn new words. Later you can rehearse the words by talking about the large pictures. You can listen to all the Finnish words on the book's website, which makes rehearsing pronunciation easier.

Regardless of the surrounding letters, Finnish letters are almost always pronounced the same. For example in the word matto (a rug) both t:s are sounded and in the word laiva (a ship) the a and i put one after the other sound the same as they do separately. K, p and t are softer than in English. They are pronounced unaspirated. The declination of Finnish words occurs without any additional little words. For example when travelling, first you get onto a boat, *laivaan, then you are in the boat, *laivassa, and finally you get off the boat, *laivasta. You'll learn more when you start using the Finnish words of this book.

The best way to rehearse Finnish pronunciation is by listening to a native Finnish speaker read the words and then repeating them. You can listen to the words on Nemo's webpage, just follow the instructions on the previous page. In the word list there are pronunciation markings (IPA, International Phonetic Alphabet) and a translation next to each word. A computer is not an essential device,

Sanasto

Sanastosta löydät kaikki kirjan suomenkieliset sanat aakkosjärjestyksessä. Jokaisen sanan vieressä on sen IPA:n mukainen ääntöohje sekä käännös.

Suomen sanojen pääpaino on aina ensimmäisellä tavulla. Jotkin vokaaliloppuiset sanat ääntyvät konsonanttiloppuisina seuraavan sanan tai yhdyssanan jälkimmäisen osan ensimmäisen kirjaimen mukaan, esim. liikennevalot ääntyy [li:kennevvalot].

Word list

In this list, you can find all the Finnish words in this book. They are listed in alphabetical order. Next to each one, you can see its pronunciation produced according to the IPA and then its English translation.

The primary stress of Finnish words is always on the first syllable. Some words that end with a vowel are pronounced as if they ended with the same consonant as the following word starts, e.g. liikennevalot (traffic lights) is pronounced [li:kennevvalot].

IPA-merkit / IPA symbols

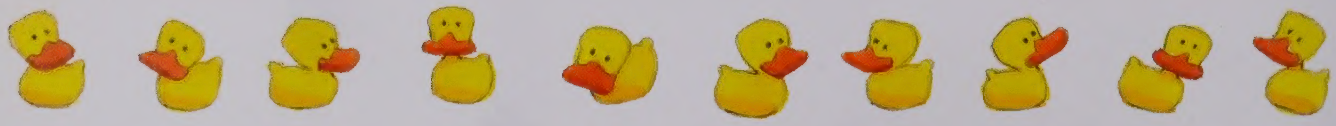
Usborne Quicklinks: notes for parents and guardians

Please ensure that your children read and follow the internet safety guidelines displayed on the Usborne Quicklinks Website.

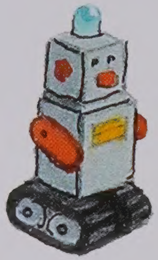
The links in Usborne Quicklinks are regularly reviewed and updated. However, the content of a website may change at any time, and Usborne Publishing is not responsible for the content on any website other than its own. We recommend that children are supervised while on the internet, that they do not use internet chat rooms and that you use internet filtering software to block unsuitable material. For more information, see the Net Help area on the Usborne Quicklinks Website.



On every double page with pictures, there is a little yellow duck to look for. Can you find it?

About this book

This is a great book for anyone starting to learn Polish. You'll find it easy to learn new words by looking at the small, labelled pictures. Then you can practise the words by talking about the large central pictures. You can also listen to all the Polish words in the book on the Usborne Quicklinks Website (see below).



Reading Polish words

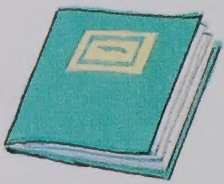
Polish words can look quite tricky to an English speaker, especially when they have sounds like cz or sz together, but once you know a few basic rules, Polish pronunciation is actually quite regular. You can listen to all the words in this book on the Usborne Quicklinks Website (see below), and you can also find a guide on pages 56-64 of the book.

Accents

Some Polish words have accents – signs that are written over, across or under the letter. These change the sound of the letter. In Polish dictionaries, accented letters are treated as different letters, so when you look for a word in a dictionary or on pages 56-64 of this book, you'll find all the words beginning with ł after the words beginning with l, and so on.

"A" or "the"

There isn't a separate word for "the" or "a" in Polish, so for example stół can mean either "a table" or "the table" – when you use the word in a sentence, it will be clear which you mean.



Hear the words on the internet

You can listen to all the words in this book, read by a native Polish speaker, on the Usborne Quicklinks Website. Just go to www.usborne-quicklinks.com and enter the keywords 1000 polish. There you can:

- listen to the first thousand words in Polish
- find links to other useful websites about Poland and the Polish language.

Your computer needs a sound card (almost all computers have these) and may also need a small program, called an audio player, such as RealPlayer® or Windows® Media Player. If you don't already have a copy, you can download one from the Usborne Quicklinks Website.

Word list

In this list, you can find all the Polish words in the book, listed in alphabetical order. Next to each one, you can see its pronunciation (how to say it) in letters like this, and then its English translation.

About Polish pronunciation

Read the pronunciation guide as if it were an English word, but try to remember the following points about how Polish words are said.

- The part of the word in bold type, like this, is the part you stress
- kh sounds like the ch in the Scottish word loch
- g is always a hard sound, like the g in get
- i is a sound in between the i in chip and the ee in cheese
- y is like the y in yet, except at the end of a word where it is like the y in city
- zh is like the s in treasure

THE USBORNE INTERNET-LINKED

FIRST THOUSAND WORDS IN POLISH

KN-992-220

With Internet-linked pronunciation guide

This bright and amusing book provides a wealth of vocabulary-building opportunities for beginner Polish learners of all ages. Stephen Cartwright's delightful pictures encourage direct association of the Polish word with the object, which will ensure effective, long-term learning. At the end of the book there is a Polish/English list of all the words used.

You can now find out how to pronounce every Polish word in this book. Just go to www.usborne-quicklinks.com and type in the keywords 1000 polish.

This book is also available in other languages, providing wonderful learning opportunities for young foreign language learners. Look out for: First Thousand Words in French, First Thousand Words in Italian, First Thousand Words in Spanish, First Thousand Words in Portuguese, First Thousand words in German, First Thousand words in Russian, First Thousand Words in Arabic, First Thousand Words in Hebrew, First Thousand Words in Chinese, First Thousand Words in Japanese and First Thousand Words in Latin.

THE USBORNE

FIRST THOUSAND WORDS

IN ARABIC

With easy pronunciation guide

Heather Amery

Illustrated by Stephen Cartwright

Arabic language consultant: Adi Budeiri

Editor: Lisa Watts; Designer (revised edition): Andy Griffin

Translation and typesetting by y2ktranslations and Mouna Hammad

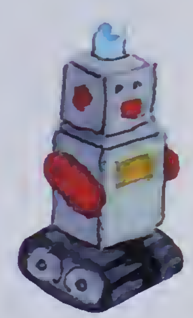
On every double page with pictures, there is a little yellow duck to look for.
Can you find it?

About this book

This book provides a fun and engaging way for beginners to learn Arabic. On most of the pages, large, colorful panoramic scenes are surrounded with small pictures labeled with their names in Arabic.



Saying the words

Each Arabic word is also written in Roman letters, to show you how to pronounce it. Reading the words while looking at the pictures will help you remember them, and you can test yourself by looking for and naming the objects in the panoramic scenes. You can even practice forming simple sentences to talk about the pictures.

Arabic alphabet

At the back of the book there is a guide to the Arabic alphabet and a list of all the Arabic words with their pronunciation guides and meanings in English. Arabic is written from right to left and there are several sounds for which there are no equivalents in English. The pronunciation guides will help you, but the best way to learn how to say the words is to listen to a native Arabic speaker.

Arabic alphabet and word list

In the list on the opposite page you will find all the words in this book in the alphabetical order of the English words. Next to each English word is the number of the page on which it appears, and the Arabic for that word written in Roman letters to show you how to pronounce it. The Arabic words written in Arabic letters are shown on the right. Remember, Arabic is read from right to left.

There are twenty-eight letters in the Arabic alphabet. These are mostly consonants as the vowel sounds (e.g. 'a' or 'u') are shown by signs called harakat above or below the letters.
Here are the harakat for the vowel sounds:
َـ fatha (a short line above the word) This gives an 'a' sound pronounced as in 'sun'.
ُـ damma This gives the 'u' sound pronounced as in 'soot'.
ِـ kasra (a short line below the word) This gives the 'i' sound pronounced as in 'sit'.

There are two other harakat:
ْـ sukoon to show there is no vowel sound
ّـ shadda for stressing the letter sound

THE USBORNE

FIRST THOUSAND WORDS IN ARABIC

This bright and amusing book provides a perfect starting point for beginners of all ages to learn Arabic. Panoramic pictures of everyday scenes are surrounded by small pictures with their names in Arabic. Each Arabic word is also written in Roman letters to show you how to pronounce it. The association of the words and pictures provides a simple and effective way to learn new vocabulary, while the panoramic scenes provide opportunities for talking about the pictures and forming simple sentences.

At the back of the book there is a guide to the Arabic alphabet and a list of all the Arabic words with their pronunciation guides and meanings in English. With delightful pictures by Stephen Cartwright, this is a fun and engaging way to learn a new language.

There is a little yellow duck to look for on every double page with pictures. Can you find it?

Stephen Cartwright's little yellow duck made his first-ever appearance in The First Thousand Words over thirty years ago. Duck has since featured in over 125 titles, in more than 70 languages, and has delighted millions of readers, both young and old, around the world.

About this book

The First Thousand Words in Italian is an enormously popular book that has helped many thousands of children and adults learn new words and improve their Italian language skills.

You'll find it easy to learn words by looking at the small labeled pictures. Then you can practice the words by talking about the large central pictures. You can also listen to the words on the Usborne Quicklinks website (see below).

There is an alphabetical word list at the back of the book, which you can use to look up words in the picture pages.

Remember, this is a book of a thousand words. It will take time to learn them all.

Masculine and feminine words
When you look at Italian words for things such as "chair" or "man," you will see that they have il, lo, la or l' in front of them. This is because all Italian words for people and things are either masculine or feminine. Il or lo are the words for "the" in front of a masculine word, la is "the" in front of a feminine word, and you use l' in front of words that begin with "a," "e," "i," "o" or "u." For plurals (more than one, as in "chair" or "men"), the Italian word for "the" is i or gli for masculine words, and le for feminine words.

All the labels in this book show words for things with il, lo, la, i, gli or le. Always learn them with this little word.

Looking at Italian words
A few Italian words have an accent on the last letter of the word. This is a sign written over the letter, and means that the last part of the word is stressed when it is spoken.

How to say the Italian words
The best way to learn how to pronounce Italian words is to listen to a native Italian speaker. You can hear the words in this book, read by a native speaker, on the Usborne Quicklinks website. Just go to www.usborne.com/quicklinks and enter the keywords 1000 italian. There you can also find links to other useful websites about Italy and the Italian language.

Word list

In this list, you can find all the Italian words in this book in alphabetical order. Next to each one, you can see its pronunciation (how to say it) in italics (like this), and then its English translation.

Remember that Italian nouns (words for things) are either masculine or feminine (see page 3). In the list, each one has il, lo, la, l', i, gli or le in front of it. These all mean "the." The words with il or lo are masculine, those with la are feminine. Italian nouns that begin with "a," "e," "i," "o" or "u" have l' in front of them. After the word you will see (m) or (f) to show whether it is masculine or feminine.

Plural nouns (a noun is a plural if you are talking about more than one, for example "cats") have i or gli in front if they are masculine, or le if they are feminine.

About Italian pronunciation

Read the pronunciation as if it were an English word, but try to remember the following points about how Italian words are said:

All the letters in an Italian word are sounded, except h. Double letters, like ll or nn, sound a little longer than usual.

c before e or i is pronounced ch;
ch before e or i is pronounced k;
gh before e or i is pronounced g as in get;
sc before e or i is pronounced sh;
z is pronounced ts.

Most Italian words have a part that you stress, or say louder (like the "day" part of the English word "today"). The part of the word that you should stress is shown in bold italics (like this) in the pronunciation guide.

In the guide, ay is like the a in "date;"
o is always like the o in "hot;"
ow is always like the ow in "cow;"
g is always like the g in "get;"
ly is like the lli in "million;"
ny is like the ni in "onion;"
ye is always like the ye in "yet."

The Usborne First Thousand Words in Italian provides a wealth of vocabulary-building opportunities for language learners of all ages. Stephen Cartwright's delightful pictures encourage direct association of the word with the object, which will ensure effective, long-term learning.

You can now find out how to pronounce every Italian word in this book by listening to a native Italian speaker on the Usborne website. Just go to www.usborne.com/quicklinks and type in the keywords 1000 italian.

At the end of the book there is an alphabetical Italian/English list of all the words in the book.

This edition of the First Thousand Words in Italian has been updated to reflect recent changes to words and objects in everyday life.

This book is also available in English and other languages. For more information visit www.edcpub.com or www.usbornebooksandmore.com

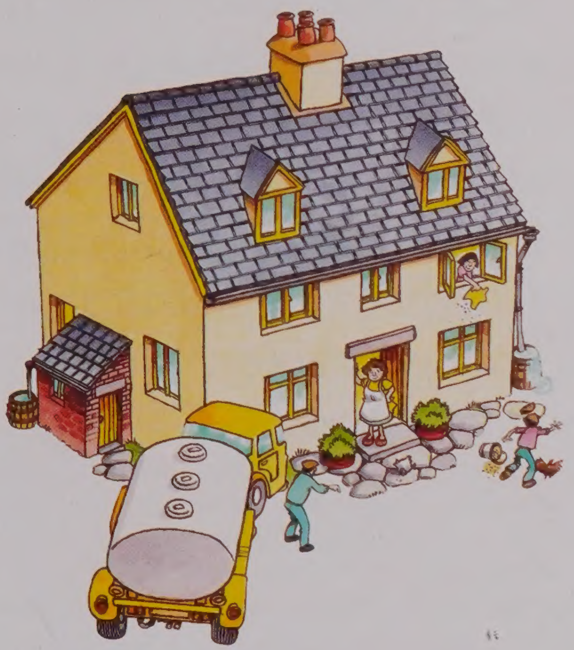
FIRST THOUSAND WORDS

IN CHINESE



Heather Amery

Illustrated by Stephen Cartwright

Revised edition by Mairi Mackinnon

Picture editing by Mike Olley

Chinese language consultant: Chloe Wong

There is a little yellow duck to look for on every double page with pictures. Can you find it?

Stephen Cartwright's little yellow duck made his first-ever appearance in The First Thousand Words over thirty years ago. Duck has since featured in over 125 titles, in more than 70 languages, and has delighted millions of readers, both young and old, around the world.

About this book

The First Thousand Words in Chinese is an enormously popular book that has helped many thousands of children and adults learn new words and improve their Chinese language skills.

You'll find it easy to learn words by looking at the small labeled pictures. Then you can practice the words by talking about the large central pictures. There is a guide under each word in Chinese, showing you how to pronounce it (find out more about this below). You can also hear the words on the Usborne Quicklinks website: just go to www.usborne.com/quicklinks and enter the keywords 1000 chinese. There you can find links to other useful websites about China and the Chinese language.

There is a word list at the back of the book, which you can use to look up words in the picture pages.

Remember, this is a book of a thousand words. It will take time to learn them all.

The Chinese language

China is the country with the largest population in the world, and more people speak Chinese than any other language including English. There are many different dialects, or regional versions, of Chinese. This book uses Mandarin Chinese, which is the official language of China. Most people in mainland China, as well as in Taiwan and Singapore, can speak Mandarin Chinese.

Reading and writing Chinese

To read Chinese, you have to learn symbols called characters. These sometimes look like little pictures, which is just what they were originally – for example, the character 伞 means "umbrella." Some characters or parts of characters are based on pictures, other parts represent sounds. Each character represents one syllable (part of a word), and words are often made up of two or more characters.

Chinese can be written using either traditional or simplified characters. Across mainland China, and in this book, simplified characters are used. On the other hand, people in Hong Kong and Taiwan, as well as many Chinese people living in other countries, generally use traditional Chinese characters.

Saying Chinese words

To help students of Chinese, there is a standard system called pinyin which spells out the sounds of the words. Almost all Chinese language courses and Chinese-English dictionaries, as well as this book, use pinyin. Most of the sounds in pinyin are the same as in English words, but there are some sounds in Chinese that are not like anything in English. You can find out more about how to read pinyin and say these sounds on page 56.

Word list

Here are all the Chinese words in the book. Next to each word, you can see its pinyin pronunciation guide (see page 3), and then its meaning in English. The words are given in alphabetical order of the pinyin, which is the way to look up words in most Chinese-English dictionaries; page numbers are given after the pinyin, to help you check that you have the right word or version of a word.

A note about family words
Chinese is more specific than English when you are talking about people in your family. The words for "grandfather," "grandmother," "uncle" and "aunt," for instance, make it clear whether the relation is on your mother's or your father's side, so we have given both versions. The words for "brother" and "sister" make clear whether you are talking about an older or a younger one, and the word for "cousin" makes clear whether you mean older or younger, a boy or girl, on your mother's or your father's side. We have given the words for an older sister, a younger brother and a younger, boy cousin on either your mother or your father's side, as shown in the picture on page 41.

Saying Chinese words

The best way to learn how to say Chinese words is to listen to a Chinese speaker and repeat what you hear. You can listen to all the words in this book, read by a native Mandarin Chinese speaker, on the Usborne Quicklinks website. Just go to www.usborne.com/quicklinks and enter the keywords 1000 chinese. These notes will help you to read the pinyin.

Tones
In Mandarin Chinese there are four tones, which means that the vowel sounds a e i o u can be said in different ways:

The first tone is high and level. In pinyin it is written ˉ as in mā (mother).

The second tone starts lower and then rises. It is written ˊ as in chá (tea).

The third tone starts mid-range, falls and then rises. It is written ˇ as in gŭ (drum).

The fourth tone starts high and then falls. It is written ˋ as in dà (big).

Some vowel sounds, often in the second syllable of a word, are pronounced without a particular tone and so are written without a tone mark.

It is important to us the right tone as the same word can have quite different meanings when said with different tones – for instance, mā means "mother" but mă means "horse."

Letter sounds in pinyin
Read the words in pinyin as if you were reading English, but remember these points:

h has a harsher sound than in English, like the Scottish ch in loch
q sounds like the ch in cheer
x sounds like the sh in shy
c sounds like the ts in cats
z sounds like the ds in heads

The next four letters are pronounced with your tongue rolled back:

ch sounds like the ch in cheer
sh sounds like the sh in shy
zh sounds like the dge in fudge
r sounds like the r in ring

a sounds like the a in father an sounds like the an in can't e sounds like the e in the or mother en sounds like the en in shaken
i sounds like the ee in seen, or like the i in shirt, but in sounds like the in in fin
o sounds like the o in more, and ong sounds like the ung in sung, but longer, more like oong
u sounds like the oo in too
ü for this sound, round your lips to say oo, then try saying ee.

The Usborne First Thousand Words in Chinese is a delightful introduction to the world's most widely-spoken language. Using Mandarin Chinese (the official and best-known dialect) and simplified characters (the version of the written language used across mainland China), it encourages direct association of the word with the object to ensure effective, long-term learning. Each Chinese word is followed by a pronunciation guide, and at the end there is a Chinese-English list of all the words used.

You can also find out how to pronounce every Chinese word in this book by listening to a native Chinese speaker on the Usborne website. Just go to www.usborne.com/quicklinks and type in the keywords 1000 chinese.

This edition of the First Thousand Words in Chinese has been updated to reflect recent changes to words and objects in everyday life.

This book is also available in English and other languages. For more information visit www.edcpub.com or www.usbornebooksandmore.com

There is a little yellow duck to look for on every double page with pictures. Can you find it?

Stephen Cartwright's little yellow duck made his first-ever appearance in The First Thousand Words over thirty years ago. Duck has since featured in over 125 titles, in more than 70 languages, and has delighted millions of readers, both young and old, around the world.

About this book

Latin was the language of the ancient Romans. More than a thousand years ago, their huge empire stretched across Europe and into Africa and Asia. Today there are very few people who can speak Latin fluently, but it is still used by the Roman Catholic Church, as well as by lawyers and in scientific names.

With this book you'll find it easy to learn Latin words by looking at the small, labelled pictures. Then you can practise the words by talking about the large central pictures.

Genders
When you look at Latin words for things such as "table" or "man", you will see that they have (m), (f) or (n) beside them. This is because all Latin words for things and people are either masculine, feminine or neuter. This is called the gender of the word. Plural words are given as (m pl), (f pl) or (n pl).

Often, masculine words end in -us, feminine words in -a and neuter words in -um, but there are many exceptions. This means that whenever you learn a new word, it's a good idea to learn its gender at the same time.

Articles
Unlike English, Latin never uses articles ("the", "a" or "an"). Instead of saying "the table", or "a table", the Romans just said "mensa".

New words
In this book you'll find words for things that hadn't been invented when the ancient Romans were alive. However, Latin was still spoken by many thousands of people, long after the end of the Roman Empire. Words have been added to the language for hundreds of years, and Latin experts have come up with new words for recent inventions, based on what the Romans might have said.

How to say the Latin words
The Romans lived such a long time ago that no one knows exactly what their language sounded like, although we can guess quite a lot from Roman poetry and other writing. For some tips on how to pronounce Latin words, go to the Latin-English word list at the back of the book. Words in this list are given with marks to show how to pronounce or stress the vowel sounds, such as the long e in the word "mēnsa". These marks are not generally used in written Latin; to help you, they are shown in the main part of the book in grey.

Word list

In this list you can find all the Latin words in the book, in alphabetical order. Remember that Latin nouns (words for people or things) are either masculine, feminine or neuter (see page 3). This is shown by (m), (f) or (n) after the word; (pl) stands for plural. After each word, you can see its English translation.

About Latin pronunciation
Read each Latin word as if it were an English word, but be sure to pronounce each letter, even when a word ends with e (say it as "eh"). Try to remember the following points about how Latin words are said:

- ae is pronounced like the ie in tie
- au is pronounced like the ow in now
- The Latin c is a hard c, as in cat, even before e, h or i
- The Latin g is a hard g, as in get
- An i before a vowel at the beginning of a word is pronounced like the y in yet
- The Latin u is pronounced oo as in book
- The Latin v is pronounced w

A line above a, e, i, o, u or y shows that the sound is heavy, or long:

- ā is pronounced ah
- ē is pronounced like the ay in day
- ī is pronounced ee
- ō is pronounced aw
- ū is pronounced like the oo in boot
- ȳ is pronounced like a German ü: try making your mouth the shape to say "oo", and saying "ee" instead.

THE USBORNE INTERNET-LINKED

FIRST THOUSAND WORDS IN JAPANESE

With Internet-linked pronunciation guide

This bright and amusing book provides a wealth of vocabulary-building opportunities for people of all ages who want to learn Japanese. Stephen Cartwright's delightful pictures encourage association of the Japanese word with the object, which will ensure effective long-term learning.

You can hear a Japanese person saying every word in this book by visiting the Usborne Quicklinks Web site at www.usborne-quicklinks.com and typing in the keywords "1000 japanese".

There is a Japanese/English word list at the back of the book for ready reference.

About kana signs

The words in this book are written in simple Japanese signs, called kana. Each kana represents a syllable. (A syllable is part of a word that is a separate sound, for example, "today" has two syllables: "to" and "day".)

Below you can see all the kana signs and find out which sounds they represent. There are also lots of tips to help you make these sounds like a Japanese person.

Japanese has two sets of kana signs, called hiragana and katakana. Hiragana signs are used for the traditional sounds of Japanese. Katakana signs are used for words that Japanese has borrowed from other languages, such as "taoru", borrowed from the English word "towel".

Next to each kana, you can see a guide to how it is said. In the book, each Japanese word is shown in the same way, that is, in kana with a pronunciation guide based on the guides on this page. Japanese also uses more complicated signs, called kanji or "characters". You can find out about kanji on page 56.

Hiragana

あ	a	い	i	う	u	え	e	お	o
か	ka	き	ki	く	ku	け	ke	こ	ko
が	ga	ぎ	gi	ぐ	gu	げ	ge	ご	go
さ	sa	し	shi	す	su	せ	se	そ	so
ざ	za	じ	ji	ず	zu	ぜ	ze	ぞ	zo
た	ta	ち	chi	つ	tsu	て	te	と	to
だ	da			づ	zu	で	de	ど	do
な	na	に	ni	ぬ	nu	ね	ne	の	no
は	ha	ひ	hi	ふ	fu	へ	he	ほ	ho
ば	ba	び	bi	ぶ	bu	べ	be	ぼ	bo
ぱ	pa	ぴ	pi	ぷ	pu	ぺ	pe	ぽ	po
ま	ma	み	mi	む	mu	め	me	も	mo
や	ya			ゆ	yu			よ	yo
ら	ra	り	ri	る	ru	れ	re	ろ	ro
わ	wa							を	(w)o
ん	n

In the lists above, signs with guides written in slanted letters (like this) are based on the ones above.

Katakana

ア	a	イ	i	ウ	u	エ	e	オ	o
カ	ka	キ	ki	ク	ku	ケ	ke	コ	ko
ガ	ga	ギ	gi	グ	gu	ゲ	ge	ゴ	go
サ	sa	シ	shi	ス	su	セ	se	ソ	so
ザ	za	ジ	ji	ズ	zu	ゼ	ze	ゾ	zo
タ	ta	チ	chi	ツ	tsu	テ	te	ト	to
ダ	da			ヅ	zu	デ	de	ド	do
ナ	na	ニ	ni	ヌ	nu	ネ	ne	ノ	no
ハ	ha	ヒ	hi	フ	fu	ヘ	he	ホ	ho
バ	ba	ビ	bi	ブ	bu	ベ	be	ボ	bo
パ	pa	ピ	pi	プ	pu	ペ	pe	ポ	po
マ	ma	ミ	mi	ム	mu	メ	me	モ	mo
ヤ	ya			ユ	yu			ヨ	yo
ラ	ra	リ	ri	ル	ru	レ	re	ロ	ro
ワ	wa							ヲ	(w)o
ン	n

As you can see, to make this new set of sounds you add a little mark to the kana.

Pronunciation tips

Here are a few tips that will help you to say the kana signs above in a really Japanese way:

- wherever the pronunciation guide shows a, say this like the "a" in "father"
- say i like the "ee" in "meet"
- say u like the "oo" in "cuckoo"
- say e like the "e" in "end"
- say o like the "o" in "corn"
- when you see a line over a letter (for example ō), this shows the sound is long.

For other letters, say them as if they were part of an English word, but remember these tips:

- when you see r, say it as a soft "r" sound, halfway between an "l" and an "r"
- when you see g, say it as in "garden"
- the (w)o sound is shown with the "w" in brackets because you sometimes say "wo", and sometimes just "o". In this book, the pronunciation guide for each word will make clear which sound to make
- the fu sound is halfway between "foo" and "hoo"
- the n sound on its own (at the bottom of each list) is a nasal "n" sound, much as if you had a cold.

In English, many words have a part that you stress, or say louder. For example, in the word "daisy", you stress "dai". In Japanese, you say each part of the word with the same stress.

On every double page with pictures, there is a little yellow duck to look for. Can you find it?

About this book

This is a great book for anyone starting to learn Japanese, and for anyone who wants to know a bit about the language. You'll find it easy to learn new words by looking at the small, labelled pictures. Then you can practise the words by talking about the large central pictures. This book also has its own Usborne Quicklinks Website where you can listen to all the Japanese words.

Looking at Japanese words

You will see that Japanese words are written with special signs. You can find out about these on the page opposite and on page 56. It will take you a little time to learn Japanese signs so, to help you, the Japanese word is also written in our alphabet.

Writing in Japanese

Traditionally, Japanese is written from right to left and top to bottom. This means you start a book at what to an English person is the back. In this book, everything is written from left to right, just as in English.

Saying and listening to Japanese words

Throughout this book you will find an easy how-to-say guide for each Japanese word, but the best way to learn how to speak Japanese is to listen to a Japanese speaker and repeat what you hear. You can listen to all the words in this book, spoken by a Japanese person, on the Usborne Quicklinks Website. Just go to www.usborne-quicklinks.com and type in the keywords "1000 japanese". To hear the words, you will need your Web browser (e.g. Internet Explorer or Netscape Navigator) and a programme that lets you play sound (such as RealPlayer® or Windows® Media Player). These programmes are free and, if you don't already have one of them, you can download them from Usborne Quicklinks. Your computer also needs a sound card but most computers already have one of these. Please read the Internet note for parents and guardians on page 56.

A computer is not essential

If you don't have access to the Internet, don't worry. This book is a complete and excellent Japanese word book on its own.

About kanji

The Japanese signs used in this book (see page two) are called kana, and they are based on sounds. They are simple signs that you use when you first learn Japanese. Normally, they are used mixed in with some other, more complicated signs, called kanji or "characters". Each kanji represents a word or an idea.

When people first started to write, they used simple pictures of things to show what they were writing about. This is how kanji started, and some kanji signs still look like what they represent. For example: 木 this kanji means "tree". It can also be written using kana, き, and said as "ki". 森 this kanji means "forest". Notice that it is made from three "tree" kanji.

There are many kanji. To read a newspaper, you have to know around 2000. It takes a few years to learn them, so it is best to start with kana, learning a few of these at a time.

About the word list

In this list, you can find all the Japanese words in the book. For each double page, the Japanese words are shown written in our alphabet. Next to each word you can see its translation (what it means in English).

The translations match the pictures, so if the picture shows leaves, the translation is "leaves", not "leaf". In Japanese, though, there is usually no difference between singular and plural (one and many), so "leaf" and "leaves" are both "ha".

To know how you should say the Japanese words, look at page two or go to the Usborne Quicklinks Website at www.usborne-quicklinks.com and type in the keywords "1000 japanese". There you can listen to all the words in this book, spoken by a native Japanese person.

About this book

This book is for everyone who is starting to learn Hebrew. By looking at the pictures, it will be easy to read and learn the words underneath each one. And seeing them in a scene where you would expect to find them will help you to remember them.

The Hebrew language now spoken in Israel is directly related to ancient Hebrew, the language of the Bible. It has been changed and added to for life today. The alphabet may look strange at first but it is quite easy to learn. On page 56 is the Hebrew alphabet with a guide to the sound of each letter. When you look at the words in the book, you will see there are dots and little lines by each letter. These are the vowels – a, e, i, o, u. These signs are used mainly in books for beginners and learners, in childrens' books, in poetry and in prayer books. The letters א, ו, י, can also be used as vowels, depending on the vowel sign.

There are no capital letters in Hebrew so there is only one set of letters to learn. They are written from right to left – English is written from left to right – so you start reading, or writing, a word on the right-hand side. Books written in Hebrew also start on the right, so they open the other way.

Under all the words on the pictures (in very small print) and at the back of the book is a guide to pronouncing the words. This is to help you say the words. But it is only a guide. There are some sounds in Hebrew which are quite different from any sound in English. To say them as an Israeli person would say them, you have to hear them spoken. Listen very carefully and then try to say them like that yourself. But if you say them as they are written in the pronunciation guide, an Israeli person will understand you – even if your Hebrew accent is not quite perfect.

Spot the duck
There is a duck on every double-page picture. Can you find it?

Saying the words

On this page is the Hebrew alphabet, with the equivalent sounds in English. But some Hebrew sounds are quite different from any sounds in English. To say them correctly, you have to listen to an Israeli person speaking before you can pronounce them.

Below is the start of the alphabetical list of all the words in the pictures in this book. The English word comes first, then the Hebrew word in the Hebrew alphabet (remember to read it from right to left), followed by its equivalent in the Roman alphabet to help you say the word.

א	A	as in Apple
בּ	B	as in Bed
ב	V	as in Van
ג	G	as in Goat
ד	D	as in Dog
ה	H	as in House
ו	V	as in Van
ז	Z	as in Zoo
ח	Ch	as in Loch
ט	T	as in Tree
י	Y	as in Yellow
כּ	K	as in King
כ	Ch	as in Loch

ל	L	as in Lemon
מ	M	as in Mouse
נ	N	as in Nile
ס	S	as in Sun
ע	A	as in Apple
פּ	P	as in Pig
פ	F	as in Frog
צ	Tz	as in Tzar
ק	K	as in King
ר	R	as in Rose
שׁ	Sh	as in Ship
שׂ	S	as in Sun
ת	T	as in Toy

THE FIRST THOUSAND WORDS IN HEBREW

About this book

This book contains a series of brilliantly colourful and amusing panoramic pictures by Stephen Cartwright, illustrating a basic vocabulary of words in Hebrew. Around each large picture is a frame of repeated pictures of individual items, accompanied by the appropriate Hebrew word in the Hebrew alphabet, with its equivalent in the Roman alphabet. This encourages direct association of the Hebrew word with the object, while the action and detail-filled main picture will provide plenty of stimulus for phrase and sentence formation for more advanced learners.

At the end of the book there is a complete English/Hebrew alphabetical dictionary of the words in the book, with their equivalents in the Roman alphabet, and a guide to pronouncing the Hebrew alphabet.

This book is also available in English, French, German, Spanish, Italian and Russian.

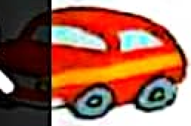
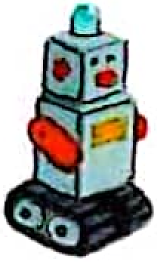
About this book



This is a great book for anyone starting to learn Portuguese. You'll find it easy to learn new words by looking at the small, labeled pictures. Then you can practice the words by talking about the large central pictures. You can also listen to all the Portuguese words in the book on the Usborne Quicklinks Website (see below).



The Portuguese language

Portuguese is spoken both in Portugal and in Brazil. This book uses European Portuguese. Some words are different in Brazilian Portuguese, and the Brazilian accent is slightly different – rather like the differences between British and American English – but if you use this book to talk to a Brazilian Portuguese speaker, they will understand you perfectly well.

Masculine and feminine words

When you look at the Portuguese words for things such as "table" or "man," you will see that they have o or a in front of them. This is because all Portuguese words for people and things are either masculine or feminine. The word for "the" is o in front of a masculine word, and a in front of a feminine word. For plurals (more than one), you use os and as.

Reading Portuguese words

Some Portuguese words have accents – signs that are written over or under the letter. Some accents tell you to stress the letter (make it sound more strongly). Others, particularly ã, ç and õ, change the sound of the letter. Find out more about how to pronounce the words on pages 56-64.

Hear the words on the internet

You can listen to all the words in this book, read by a native Portuguese speaker, on the Usborne Quicklinks Website. Just go to www.usborne-quicklinks.com and enter the keywords 1000 portuguese. There you can:

- listen to the first thousand words in Portuguese
- find links to other useful websites about Portugal and Brazil and the Portuguese language.

Your computer needs a sound card (almost all computers have these) and may also need a small program, called an audio player, such as RealPlayer® or Windows® Media Player. If you don't already have a copy, you can download one from the Usborne Quicklinks Website.

Word list

In this list, you can find all the Portuguese words in the book, listed in alphabetical order. Next to each one, you can see its pronunciation (how to say it) in letters like this, and then its English translation.

Remember that Portuguese nouns (words for people or things) are either masculine or feminine (see page 3). In the list, each one has o, a, os or as in front of it. These all mean "the". The words with o are masculine, those with a are feminine. For plurals (more than one) you use os or as.

About Portuguese pronunciation
Read the pronunciation guide as if it were an English word, but try to remember the following points about how Portuguese words are said:

- the part of the word in bold, like this, is the part you stress (say more strongly).
- when you see (l) or (m) at the end of a word, say them very lightly, almost swallowing them.
- when you see (n) in a pronunciation, you should barely say it; say the letter that is before it through your nose, as if you had a cold.
- ow is always pronounced as in down
- the Portuguese r is pronounced more strongly than in English, especially at the end of a word; try rolling it a little, rrr
- when you see zh, say it like the "s" in "treasure".

Reading the Russian alphabet

Russian is written in the Cyrillic (say sirilick) alphabet. This may look strange at first, but it is fairly easy to learn. Once you have looked at the alphabet, try writing your name in the Cyrillic alphabet, and then some other names. This is a good way to learn the letters and their sounds.

There are many Russian words that are very similar to English, but are written in the Cyrillic alphabet and pronounced in the Russian way. For example, a mask is маска, "maska", and a lamp is лампа, "lampa". You will be surprised by the number of words you recognize.

If you look at the list below, you will see that some Cyrillic letters look like our alphabet, but some look very different. Be careful, because the ones that look the same may have a different sound: В, for example, sounds like v in van, Р sounds like r in root and Н sounds like n in net. So when you see ванна you say "vanna" (bath), when you see радио you say "radeeo" (radio) and when you see банан you say "banan" (banana).

Vowels

printed		written
А	а	А	а	a as in mat
О	о	О	о	aw as in paw
Э	э	Э	э	e as in bed
У	у	У	у	oo as in boot
Ы	ы	Ы	ы	i as in rip (tongue pushed back)
Я	я	Я	я	ya as in yak
Ё	ё	Ё	ё	yaw as in yawn
Е	е	Е	е	ye as in yet
Ю	ю	Ю	ю	yoo as in useful
И	и	И	и	ee as in meet
Й	й	Й	й	y as in boy

Hard and soft vowels

Hard:	а	о	э	у	ы
Soft:	я	ё	е	ю	й

For each English vowel you will notice that there are two in Russian, a hard and a soft. The soft vowel has a "y" sound before it. To hear the difference, practice saying а я, "a ya".

Consonants

printed		written
Б	б	Б	б	b as in book
В	в	В	в	v as in van
Г	г	Г	г	g as in get
Д	д	Д	д	d as in day
Ж	ж	Ж	ж	zh like the s in pleasure
З	з	З	з	z as in zoo
К	к	К	к	k as in kit
Л	л	Л	л	l as in table, before a hard vowel, or l as in leaf, before a soft vowel
М	м	М	м	m as in milk
Н	н	Н	н	n as in net
П	п	П	п	p as in pot
Р	р	Р	р	r as in rock
С	с	С	с	s as in sit
Т	т	Т	т	t as in top
Ф	ф	Ф	ф	f as in fan
Х	х	Х	х	ch as in Scottish loch
Ц	ц	Ц	ц	ts as in cats
Ч	ч	Ч	ч	ch as in cheese
Ш	ш	Ш	ш	sh as in fresh
Щ	щ	Щ	щ	shch as in fresh cheese
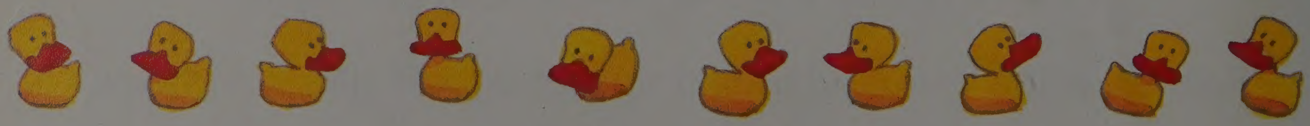
Ъ	ъ	Ъ	ъ	'hard sign' (very rare), gives the letter before it a 'hard' sound.
Ь	ь	Ь	ь	'soft sign', gives the letter before it a 'soft' sound.



On every big picture across two pages, there is a little yellow duck to look for. Can you find it?

Saying Russian words

The best way to learn how to say Russian words is to listen to someone who can speak Russian and repeat what you hear. You can listen to all the words in this book on the Usborne Quicklinks website (see below). To help you, too, you will find an easy pronunciation guide after each Russian word in the book. "Soft" consonants are shown in the guide with an apostrophe ' after them, for example мать, "mat'" (mother).

In English, many words have a part that is stressed, or sounds stronger. For example, in "window" you stress "win". It is the same in Russian, and in this book you will see that the part you stress has been shown like this. So when you read дельфин, say "dyel'feen" (dolphin), stressing "feen".

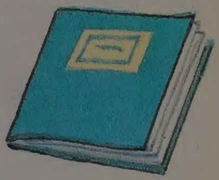
When you see the letter о you need to notice whether it is stressed or not. If it is stressed, say "aw" as in "paw", but if it is not stressed, say "a" as in "mat". For example, when you read футбол, say "footbol" (football), but when you read шоколад, say "shakalad" (chocolate).

Hear the words on the Internet

You can listen to all the words in this book, read by a native Russian speaker, on the Usborne Quicklinks Website. Just go to www.usborne-quicklinks.com and enter the keywords 1000 russian. There you can:

- listen to the first thousand words in Russian
- find links to other useful websites about Russia and the Russian language.

Your computer needs a sound card (almost all computers have these) and may also need a small program, called an audio player, such as RealPlayer® or Windows® Media Player. These programs are free, and if you don't already have a copy, you can download one from the Usborne Quicklinks Website.



Note for parents and guardians

Please ensure that your children read and follow the Internet safety guidelines displayed on the Usborne Quicklinks Website.

The links in Usborne Quicklinks are regularly reviewed and updated. However, the content of a website may change at any time, and Usborne Publishing is not responsible for the content on any website other than its own. We recommend that children are supervised while on the Internet, that they do not use Internet chat rooms and that you use Internet filtering software to block unsuitable material. THE USBORNE INTERNET-LINKED

FIRST THOUSAND WORDS IN RUSSIAN

With Internet-linked pronunciation guide

This bright and amusing book provides a wealth of vocabulary-building opportunities for beginners of all ages to learn Russian. Stephen Cartwright's delightful pictures encourage direct association of the Russian word with the object, which will ensure effective, long-term learning. Each Russian word is followed by an easy-to-read pronunciation guide.

You can now also find out how to pronounce every Russian word in this book by listening to a native Russian speaker on the Usborne Quicklinks Website. Just go to www.usborne-quicklinks.com and type in the keywords "1000 russian".

At the end of the book there is a Russian/English list of all the words in the book.

This book is also available in other foreign languages, providing wonderful opportunities for learning a new language. Look for: First Thousand Words in French, First Thousand Words in Italian, First Thousand Words in Spanish, First Thousand Words in German, First Thousand Words in Arabic, First Thousand Words in Hebrew and First Thousand Words in Japanese.
